Commissioner for Patents

Sir:

In the Office Action mailed January 12, 2004, the Examiner indicates:

[T]he claimed limitation that the generally arcuate-shaped portion of at least one of the at least two conductors having a plurality of segments including at least one straight segment and at least one generally arcuate segment is not by the prior art of record.

Applicants concur with the reasons as stated by the Examiner insofar as they comprise a summary, and are exemplary and not limiting. However, the independent claims as allowed include other and different language than that specified by the Examiner, and the allowed dependent claims include other and further features and elements. Accordingly, the scope of the claims must be determined from the literal language of each as a whole, as well as equivalents thereof.

Respectfully submitted,
